ANNE KLEIN

ANNE KLEIN WAS ONE OF THE ORIGINAL FOUNDER'S OF MODERN AMERICAN SPORTSWEAR.

At a time when women were entering the workforce with tremendous speed, Anne's mission was to celebrate this new found empowerment by creating sportswear separates that put comfort and style on equal footing.

Her creative vision heralded mixing separates, the concept of wardrobing, and the use of non-traditional fabrics, such as menswear, in unexpected combinations. These elements represented the ethos of contemporary American sportswear and the clothing that complemented the way women lived, worked and played.

“ She put sportswear on the map and was truly an American designer. She was very much influenced by and, at the same time, she influenced everything that was American. ”

- Oscar De La Renta

“ Anne Klein has created 'Investment Sportswear', an inter-related wardrobe of blazers, skirts, pants, sweaters and slinky hooded jersey dresses for evening. ”
